

Building Stronger, Brighter Futures for Oklahomans

2018 Annual Report

July 1, 2017-June 30, 2018

Dear Friends,

The ancient Roman god, Janus, is most often depicted with two heads: one looking backward and one looking forward. At Sunbeam Family Services we look to the future and evaluate the past. We also keep a close watch on the present, so we can continue to faithfully serve our community's needs, just as we have for 112 years. This Annual Report, like Janus, looks back on the past year, but it also contains examples of what we're doing in the present, and what we plan for the future. Here's a quick overview:

- This past year we served 14,597 Oklahomans. Every one of those numbers is a person with a story, and Sunbeam is in the business of helping people live their best story.
- We partnered with many other nonprofits and government agencies to provide holistic services across the age spectrum, helping Oklahomans “from cradle to cane.”
- Our Early Childhood Services program provided high-quality child care and assisted 15 Child Care Centers in Oklahoma City's most impoverished zip codes. By embedding some of our employees within these centers, we helped improve their facilities, the quality of their programming, and provided advanced training to their employees.
- Our Counseling program provided sliding scale counseling to our neighbors who needed professional help but couldn't afford the fees typically charged for mental health assistance. We saw a wide variety of people with all kinds of challenges and we were able to serve individuals and families of our other programs as well.
- Foster Care is in our historical DNA and we continued to place high-level priority in providing support to both foster children and the loving families who opened their homes to them. Our case managers were on call 24/7 to assist with any need, and we provided training and support to ensure our foster children are in a safe, nurturing, and caring environment.
- As we look to the future we see an aging Baby Boomer generation and are prepared to help seniors who need us. Through our Senior Services, Sunbeam provided a wide array of support to seniors in need of services. This included our Senior Companions Program that helped seniors age in place, as well as the state's only emergency shelter for homeless seniors. (Yes, that's right - the only one!)

At Sunbeam we are in the “people development business”, developing the people we serve as well as our staff. That's one of the reasons we were voted one of Oklahoma's “Best Places to Work” for the fourth year in a row. We believe when employees are inspired, motivated, and treated well, they provide great service to our families.

What you see in this Annual Report only happens because of YOU! Join us as we look forward to the future, reflect on the past and serve in the present!

With gratitude,

Jim Priest

Empowering families and individuals to achieve self-sufficiency.

For 112 years, Sunbeam has been a vital support to individuals and families in Central Oklahoma. Sunbeam's programs and services address the physical, mental and emotional health of our clients. This holistic approach means many of our clients benefit from two or more of our service programs. Sunbeam strongly values collaboration and continually seeks new partnerships with organizations to better serve our neighbors.

Thanks to generous partners like you, last fiscal year:

Early Childhood Services: Helping Young Children Learn, Grow, and Thrive

Learning begins long before a child starts kindergarten. Studies show early learning strengthens a child's verbal and math abilities, prepares them socially to interact with others, teaches them self-regulation skills and supports development to their fullest potential. Children who are not prepared to start school at age five are at risk of never catching up, leaving an achievement gap that can persist until high school. This gap can be linked to social and economic problems later in life, including illiteracy, teen pregnancy, and high-dropout rates.

Sunbeam's Early Childhood program is a leader in early childhood education. This program prepares children from prenatal to five to enter kindergarten with the skills necessary to be ready for school - and beyond. Sunbeam helps families who might normally have difficulty in accessing high quality early learning and care programs by providing home-based and full-day, full-year center-based services at no cost to the family of the child.

Sunbeam's goals align with Head Start Child Development and Early Learning Framework, Oklahoma Early Learning Guidelines and Creative Curriculum/ Teaching Strategies (TS) GOLD curricula and assessment tools. The five major goal areas are: Social-Emotional, Language and Literacy, Approaches to Learning, Cognition and General Knowledge, and Physical Well-Being. In each area, goals for children's development are identified, as well as specific areas and examples of knowledge and skills associated with each goal.

Building a Strong Foundation to Empower Families

Sunbeam creates a foundation for continued achievement and readiness for school by building community support among schools, teachers, and families.

Family engagement is a crucial component of Sunbeam's Early Childhood program. Families are involved in every aspect of Sunbeam's Early Childhood Services program and participate in their child's development, as well as their own personal and professional development.

Family Advocates help families problem-solve, locate resources within the community, and to set and achieve goals. Each Family Advocate holds a degree in Family Life Education and helps approximately 32 families each year.

Through the monthly Parent Committee Meetings, families have the opportunity to meet and network with other families to share ideas and engage in discussion about their children's learning and experiences. During these meetings, families also assist with the planning and preparation of special projects and events.

decision making, including topics such as: program goals and objectives, policies and procedures, program monitoring, and program funding proposals.

The Health Services Advisory Committee and Education Committee provide families with opportunities to assist with the guidance of health-related services and classroom curriculum activities.

Families are invited to volunteer in Early Childhood Services classrooms and are encouraged to apply for employment opportunities. Additionally, families join in Parent-Child Interaction activities and monthly Parent Education Workshops.

Male/Father Engagement activities are offered monthly to encourage father figures and male family members to be actively involved in our program, child rearing, and in their child's life.

Educare Oklahoma City Ignites a Love of Learning

Educare OKC is a state-of-the-art school that provides early childhood education. Children who attend Educare OKC develop strong social skills, including self-confidence, and emerge better prepared for kindergarten. The school nurtures early learning and closes the achievement gap of children who are in families who face the greatest number of obstacles to success. Educare OKC builds partnerships with families, coming alongside them to help with goal-setting and accessing community resources.

Educare OKC is part of a national research project of the Educare Learning Network. Independent evaluations of children enrolled at Educare were provided by Anslem Learning. Educare teachers gather data at progress checkpoints quarterly and children receive quarterly mental health assessments, evaluations, and referrals as needed for additional services.

Average Enrollment of Sunbeam's Early Childhood Services

- Last year, this program served a total of 741 children, more than 2,500 family members, and maintained an average monthly enrollment of 74%.
- 81% of early childhood clients were income eligible, 2% were over income eligible, 6% were foster children, and 11% had public assistance through TANF or SSI.
- 78% of all children enrolled in Sunbeam's Early Head Start program were fully up-to date on well-child health exams. 97% had access to a dental provider.
- Last fiscal year, 100% of childhood clients served through this program lived at or below the poverty line.

Community Support

Sunbeam's early childhood programs were provided through partnerships with Oklahoma City Public Schools, Latino Community Development Agency, and Oklahoma County Community Action Agency.

KIM AND TIANNA

Inspiring Self-Sufficiency

Your generosity helped so many Oklahomans like Kim, a single mom with four children - two of whom are disabled.

The teachers at Educare Oklahoma City, a program of Sunbeam Family Services, learned how to feed Tianna through her feeding tube. They also arranged their class schedule to meet Tianna's feeding needs and helped Kim access all the services Tianna qualified for to help her thrive.

“With the help of Sunbeam, I was able to return to work and care for my other three children,” said Kim. “I would not be the woman I am today, and Tianna would not be where she is today, without all the love and support Sunbeam has given us!” Tianna's story is one of inspiration.

Thanks to support from the Educare OKC teachers, Tianna is now able to eat on her own and was able to start this school year at a daycare facility closer to her home.

EARLY CHILDHOOD

Sunbeam supported children and their families through EDUCARE OKLAHOMA CITY AND 15 PARTNER CHILD CARE CENTERS.

741 CHILDREN ENROLLED in Sunbeam's Early Childhood Centers and Home Based Care, a 20.6% increase from the previous year.

639 INDIVIDUALS RECEIVED PARENTING AND LITERACY TRAINING to strengthen their families, a 40% increase over the previous year.

Senior Services: Giving Hope and Restoring Dignity

According to AARP, nearly seven baby boomers turn 65 every minute. This is expected to continue into the 2030s. Sunbeam seeks to give Oklahomans who paved a way for current generations a safe and loving support system through our Senior Services program.

Ninety-four percent of clients served by Sunbeam's Senior Services program were at or below the poverty line, which is $1,041 per month for one individual. Because of support from partners like you, last fiscal year 3,110 senior adults stayed active, connected to their communities, and supported seniors living in their own homes.

Caregiver Fundamentals Program: Providing support groups, assistance, and counseling to families caring for loved ones

According to the National Alliance for Caregiving, more than 43 million adults in the United States provide unpaid care to an adult or child in the last fiscal year. Additionally, studies show elderly spousal caregivers, aged 66-96, who experience caregiving-related stress have a 63% higher mortality rate than those of non-caregivers of the same age.

Our Caregiver Fundamentals Program served 2,278 clients and provided 161 educational workshops and support groups to help caregivers. Sunbeam's Caregiver Fundamentals Program creates an environment of support for families providing care to others in their families, including grandparents raising grandchildren. With the goal of encouraging self-care, the program provides support groups, counseling, respite care, training services, and resources-referral information.

Over 45,000 children in Oklahoma are being raised by grandparents without the presence of parents in the home. Sunbeam's Grandparents Raising Grandchildren program, a sub-program of Caregiver Fundamentals, creates an environment of support for families raising a second generation. Counseling services and support groups are available to each member of the family. In addition, financial burdens are lifted by providing back-to-school supplies and assistance during the Christmas season.

Sunbeam is proud to partner alongside caregivers to provide support and practical solutions to help caregiver's physical, mental, and emotional well-being. Up to 4 hours of respite care is available to Oklahomans each week who care for a loved one 60+ and live in Oklahoma, Cleveland, Canadian, or Logan counties. Last fiscal year, Sunbeam's supportive staff offered respite and relief care to 42 individuals.

Senior Companion Program: Addressing poverty through volunteerism

Sunbeam's Senior Companion Program provides quality, in-home support and companionship to individuals. Nearly 90 percent of people over 65 want to stay in their homes as long as possible. In-home care is less expensive than residential nursing facilities, and means better health outcomes.

Last fiscal year, 100 Senior Companions spent quality time each week with a senior adult providing support that may include: light housekeeping, playing games and talking with the senior. The volunteers gave back in their own community while developing a nurturing, supportive companionship with another senior adult who may be homebound due to illness or age. In total, 203 companion clients benefited from the program, which included respite care.

Emergency Senior Shelter: Finding safe, permanent homes for homeless seniors in our state

Sunbeam's Emergency Senior Shelter is the only facility of its kind in Oklahoma and provides temporary housing and case management for homeless adults aged 60 and older.

Last fiscal year, 99 homeless seniors sought safety in the Emergency Senior Shelter, many of whom were without a family support system and had a limited monthly income. The shelter is staffed 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and is supported by therapists from Sunbeam's Counseling program.

During their stay, residents receive home-cooked meals, a warm bed and weekly laundry services along with comprehensive case management, including an individualized plan developed to support them in their path toward permanency. The efforts of the Emergency Senior Shelter have resulted in a 94% success rate in homeless seniors finding a permanent place to call home.

DOROTHY SMITH, SENIOR COMPANION

Supporting Friendship and Stability

When Dorothy Smith turned 65 and retired, she felt that she had too much time on her hands. That's when she spotted an article about Sunbeam Family Services need for Senior Companion volunteers and knew she would be a good fit.

"This program has been so good to help me stay mentally sharp," said Dorothy.

Our Senior Companion program helps clients remain independent in their home, with a greater quality of life, while providing the volunteer with an opportunity to remain active and give back to their community.

Dorothy has been Henri Wilson's Senior Companion for nearly 20 years. The two women, both long-time community advocates, met years ago during their careers. Today, Henri, who is 78 years old, has mobility problems due to bad knees and has to rely on others to get out of her home. Dorothy takes Henri to community meetings and out to dinner, but she shares that the program helps her just as much as it helps Henri, especially since she lost her husband a few years ago.

"Henri is good to listen when I need to share what's in my bucket. Physically and mentally, we help each other," Dorothy said. "It's a way that I can stay active and feel useful, because everybody wants to be useful."

SENIOR SERVICES

3,110 SENIOR ADULTS received caring support through the Senior Services program, a 14.3% INCREASE over the previous year.

328 GRANDPARENTS AND 869 GRANDCHILDREN received supportive services through the Grandparents Raising Grandchildren program.

187 SENIORS RECEIVED TRAININGS on a variety of self-care topics for caregivers, including legal, health, and depression.

100 SENIOR COMPANIONS provided quality, in-home support and companionship to 203 homebound seniors, and 35 respite homes.

99 HOMELESS SENIOR RESIDENTS RECEIVED CARE at the Emergency Senior Shelter and found safe, permanent home. 35% OF SENIORS SERVED THROUGH THE SHELTER WERE VETERANS.

2,278 CAREGIVERS WERE GIVEN ESSENTIAL SUPPORT through our Caregiver Fundamentals Program.

Foster Care: Opening Hearts and Homes

On average, 8,000 children are in DHS custody throughout Oklahoma and have entered the foster system due to severe neglect or abuse. Children deserve safe, loving homes where they can grow and thrive. Sunbeam has served Oklahoma's children in Foster Care for over 100 years.

Caring individuals and families make a difference in the lives of children in Central Oklahoma who need stability, guidance, and community. Through the Foster Care program, Sunbeam works with families in Canadian, Cleveland, Grady, Kingfisher, Lincoln, Logan, McClain, and Oklahoma counties.

Sunbeam also works to certify families interested in providing care to siblings groups of two or more. Sibling relationships are emotionally powerful and critically important not only in childhood, but over the course of a lifetime.

Sunbeam provides safe, stable homes, and loving families to children ages 17 and under. After recruiting and training new foster parents, Sunbeam's Foster Care program provides ongoing support, case management, and access to our wraparound services to ensure long-term success. Sunbeam's Counseling services are available to support foster parents and children. Additionally, children in foster care have priority placement in Sunbeam's Early Childhood centers.

Children leaving our foster care program were either reunited with their birth families, placed with kinship families, in a higher level of foster care, in tribal foster care, or adopted by their Sunbeam Foster Families.

FOSTER CARE

106 FOSTER CHILDREN were placed in loving homes with families who make them feel safe, valued, and loved.

14 FOSTER HOMES were certified and opened their hearts and homes to support foster children.

Provided 15,415 DAYS OF CARE with 29 CERTIFIED FOSTER HOMES.

CASTILLAS FAMILY

CASTILLAS FAMILY

Fostering Love and Joy

Since she was 17 years old, Tara Casillas has known she wanted to foster children. Her career path, three years as a case worker with the Oklahoma Department of Human Services and seven years as a detective in the Norman Police Department's Child Victim Unit, has exposed her to the tragedies of childhood trauma, the overwhelming need for foster families, and the beauty in lives restored.

Casillas' work experiences trained her well for her role of foster mom, which she officially began in 2015 with her first placement. Although not much surprises Casillas, fostering has opened her eyes to the human capacity for love.

"I think what surprises most people is how much you can love a kid who's not [biologically] yours, with an uncertain future," said Casillas. "The more we can keep siblings together, the better off they are. We could change so many stereotypes of foster kids if they just got to stay with their siblings."

Though Casillas understood the value in counseling before she became a foster parent, she has witnessed firsthand its life-giving effects, like her 3-year-old foster son's ability to process through his many moves. When Casillas has fostered older children, family counseling has been instrumental in helping the entire family mesh and understand the feelings and experiences foster children bring to the home.

"Figuring out the emotions of loving and accepting other people who aren't your parents is hard," said Casillas.

In addition to processing those feelings, Casillas believes the key in helping foster children adjust to a foster home is bridging, or building a relationship with the biological families, when appropriate.

"For older kids especially, when they know on a certain night they get to talk to mom, or that Friday after school they get a visit, that consistent plan can help them excel so much," said Casillas. "It's about setting boundaries and sticking to them so everyone knows the expectations."

Even when a foster child can't return to their home of origin, Casillas believes they still deserve a connection with their biological family on some level.

"Whether that child goes home or stays in your home forever, you are a vital person to that child for the rest of their lives. If they reunify and it's successful, you need to be a support system for that mom because chances are she won't have many people in her life that are appropriate."

"They are a piece of their story they need answers to," said Casillas.

JIM PRIEST, CEO

From Surviving to Thriving: The Eye of the Hurricane

I wish you could have been there when we first met Joe at our Emergency Shelter for seniors.

“I’m in the eye of a hurricane,” he said.

Through Sunbeam’s wrap around services, Joe worked with a supportive case manager, completed counseling sessions and had access to free services from a Legal Aid attorney.

“I’m a prideful person; I don’t like to ask,” said Joe. “I was in such a jam. The staff is fabulous. If you need something and just want to talk they listen. The staff has done so much to get me back on track, to get me back to who I am, to myself. There is a definite need for people who are in a bad situation and need assistance.”

At the end of his 30 day stay with Sunbeam, Joe was a new man. Now, he is optimistic about his future and has a new home. Joe praises Sunbeam’s caring staff and impactful services for helping him when he needed it the most.

Your support helps seniors like Joe, who turn to Sunbeam for help.

Changing Lives Since 1907

For 112 years, Sunbeam has provided vital support to individuals and families in the Oklahoma City area. Founded as a children's home, our nonprofit has grown to meet the ever changing needs of the community. As one of Oklahoma City's longest serving nonprofits, Sunbeam is dedicated to helping children and families learn, grow, heal and thrive.

1907 — With basket in hand, founder Lizzie Swisher and a group of women went door-to-door in their historic Oklahoma City Heritage Hills and Mesta Park neighborhoods, asking their peers for financial support to build a children's home.

Late 1930s — Sunbeam expanded its services to include a psychological services clinic, casework services, foster care and adoptive home placement.

World War II — Sunbeam operated a nursery for the children of women who worked in war-connected industries and licensed other providers of similar child care operations.

Post-War 1940s — this era marked a period of expansion into adult mental health services for Sunbeam, providing the only community-based mental health services in existence in Oklahoma at that time.

Late 1940s — Sunbeam again broke new ground when it served as a resource for emergency detention of children under the age of 16 who had committed crimes. Sunbeam's board of directors provided leadership for the creation of what is today's Oklahoma County Juvenile Bureau.

Early 1970 — Sunbeam began to provide services to the elderly and their families, now known as the Senior Companion Program.

Late 1970s-Early 1980s — Sunbeam became one of Oklahoma's first operators of community group home care and therapeutic foster care.

2001 — Sunbeam opened an 11-bed emergency shelter for senior citizens that are victims of elder abuse and persons made homeless by catastrophic medical problems.

2003 — The Caregiver Fundamentals program was expanded from support for individuals who are caring for an aging family member to include services for grandparents raising grandchildren.

2004 — Sunbeam was awarded a grant to administer the Early Head Start Program in Oklahoma County. Today, Sunbeam works with 15 Early Head Start locations.

2009 — Sunbeam begins operating Educare Oklahoma City, a research-based program focused on school-readiness for children living in poverty.

2015 — Sunbeam moved into its new home at 1100 NW 14th Street in Oklahoma City.

2017 — Sunbeam begins the innovative Infant Early Childhood Mental Health initiative, funded partially by the Arnall Family Foundation. Sunbeam also expanded the geographic scope CareTrak program, from the Oklahoma City Police to include the Norman Police Department.

“Oklahomans are a resilient, ‘can-do’ people and we, at Sunbeam, stand ready to work with all partners to improve the lives of vulnerable Oklahomans. That’s what we do — and have done — for over a hundred years: providing help, hope and opportunity — and above all, changing lives for the better,”

Jim Priest, CEO, in Changed Lives.
