October is Head Start Month

October is Head Start Awareness Month, a time to celebrate the lasting impact Head Start has on children, families, and communities. Every child deserves the opportunity to enter kindergarten ready to learn and thrive. Head Start helps expand access to high-quality early childhood education and support for children and families who may face barriers to opportunity, including families with low incomes, children in foster care, children experiencing homelessness, and children with diagnosed disabilities.

At Sunbeam, we're proud to provide Head Start and Early Head Start services for 734 children across 15 locations throughout Oklahoma County. Through early childhood education, family support, health services, and strong community connections, we partner with families during some of the most important years of a child's development.

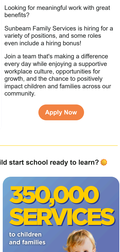

A strong start is about more than academics. It's about nurturing the skills, confidence, and relationships that help children learn, grow, and thrive throughout their lives.

Capitol Hill Head Start Advocacy Day

We were proud to have Jessica, a former Head Start parent and Sunbeam's Disabilities Coordinator, represent Oklahoma families in Washington, D.C. as advocates from across the country rallied to protect Head Start.

Jessica shared the story of her son, Benson, who was born at just 26 weeks gestation and weighed less than two pounds. Through the support of his family, healthcare providers, and Head Start, Benson received services during his earliest years that helped address significant developmental and medical needs.

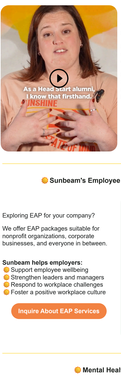

Today, he is successfully transitioning to pre-k and is meeting developmental milestones alongside his peers.

Stories like Benson's are why Head Start matters. These programs provide comprehensive support that helps children thrive and give families the resources they need during critical stages of development.

25 Families. Countless Possibilities.

This fall, Sunbeam is seeking 25 new foster parents across central Oklahoma to help provide safety, connection, and stability for children experiencing foster care. There isn't just one way to be a foster family. You might welcome siblings so they can stay together, provide support to a teenager, offer emergency care, or open your home for a short season.

What matters most is a willingness to provide a safe, nurturing place where a child feels valued and supported. You don't have to have all the answers. Sunbeam surrounds families with training, resources, and a dedicated support team every step of the way. Because every child deserves safety, connection, consistency, and a sense of belonging.
